Do you think Leonardo Da Vinci was successful?

I think Leonardo was successful because he tried as hard as he could to be the best he could be. He was an artist. He lived during the Renaissance. He was born April 15, 1452. He was famous because of his Mona Lisa painting. Most women back then only got half of their face painted but Mona Lisa got her whole face. Leonardo was successful because thousands of people come to honor his work every day. On page 371 it says "On November 1493 he had completed the clay model twenty-four feet high

It was shown off at one of the Duke's special occasions and it was an sensation". Another reason why I think he was a successful artist is one of his master pieces was a sensation. On page 371 it states

"He showed off his horse and it was an sensation"

One last reason is that he is successful because people still come to see his work. A quote from the video is that "The Mona Lisa painting was placed behind bullet proof glass! that's how special it is. These are all the reasons why I think he is a successful artist.
